President's Message

Hello WRRRA members!
My favorite season, summer, is almost over. We have been fortunate to enjoy great weather, great skies and good times in and around the cabins. And as we move on to the beauty of fall and winter, I want to highlight our very successful WRRRA summer events the weekend of July 30/31st.

The turnout for all of the activities was terrific. Thank you! Picnic attendance was among the highest in recent years. The weather was fantastic, the energy high, and the food delicious. The pie contest has resurged with more entries this year. Board members are always grateful for help and this year, you out did yourselves. Thanks to those who came out early and stayed late to pitch in with set up, preparation and clean up. Special thanks to Rob Pederson and Carla Patopea for managing the recycling. What a system! And here is a shout out to Becky McAuley for capturing the imagination of the kids (young and old) with games and crafts, to Dave and Karen Buhler for providing wonderful beer, to Camp Shepherd for use of tables and benches, and to our own Greenwater Fire Department for showing up (engines and all) in full support. There were lots of happy faces that afternoon!

Saturday evening (once we caught our breath) we were off again to enjoy the annual Cabin Tour. Each year as each host welcome us into their cabin, we capture a snapshot of its special design and history. It is wonderful "just being neighbors", visiting and hearing stories and sharing time together. Thanks to Fred Orton and Cindy Crowley DC-13, Tod Turner SC-70, Scott and Donna Armstrong GC-99, and Mark and Debbie Norris GC-90 for volunteering this year. This continues to be a very popular event with an increasing numbers of attendees. And the WRRRA Cabin Defense Fund benefits from the proceeds of our visits.

And finally, Sunday morning, members from all tracts were rolling onto Huckleberry Road in preparation for our summer Highway 410 Clean-up organized by Deep Creek. Again, this was one of the largest groups ever. Thanks again for coming out and to all of the Curran Family DC-3 for a great lunch following the work.

My heart is continually warmed by the collective spirit and enthusiasm of our cabin owners. We have the good fortune of being brought together through this unique Recreation Residence Program established so long ago.

I look forward to seeing you all soon at the Fall Dinner Meeting, November 5th and around the cabin area this fall and winter.

~ Rena

2016 Board Elections: Meet the Candidates

The following positions on the WRRRA Board are open for election at the fall dinner meeting:

- President
- Vice President
- Silver Springs Rep (position 1)
- Goat Creek Rep (position 1)
- Deep Creek Rep

Thanks to the nominating committee, a full slate of candidates has been finalized and will be voted on at the Fall Dinner Meeting, November 5th during the business meeting. The nominating committee is happy to report that there is at least one candidate for each open position, including board members willing to run for an additional term or new position on the board.

President - Kevin Orth

I am a Northwest native who grew up skiing at Alpentel, but switched to Crystal Mountain in my teen years to get more challenging terrain. I became familiar with the Silver Springs cabin tract over 20 years ago, as our family spent many wonderful weekends with our friends the Wellingtons at SS-148.

We bought a cabin of our own, Silver Creek cabin #26, across from the sledding hill, 14 years ago. We have two girls, Amelia (age 15) and Lauren (age 13) who love being up at the cabin, skiing in the winter, hiking in the summer, and even love our cabin mouse "Bob".

Kendra and I have climbed Mt Rainier, and have done many of the hikes and bike rides around the cabin area. We love to spend time at the cabin and try to get up as often as we can.

I have been at Starbucks Coffee Company for over 25 years, in a variety of roles in the corporate headquarters in Seattle, including sales, marketing, operations, management, and finance. We live nearby, on Mercer Island.

I have been the Silver Creek rep since 2009, and have developed and continue to manage the WRRRA Facebook page, and have led the Social Committee and organized the WRRRA Spring and Fall dinners and the summer picnics over the past few years.

I look forward to the challenge of leading the WRRRA and the board, while juggling work and family commitments as well. I hope to continue my involvement with the board and serve the members of WRRRA for years to come.

Vice President - Tim Curran

Hello Fellow cabin owners.

My name is Tim Curran and I am honored to be considered as a candidate for the position of vice president of the WRRRA. My wife, Annie and I have been active members of WRRRA for the past 40 years.

My parents, Jim & Mable Curran, purchased our much loved cabin (Green Timbers) at Deep Creek #3 in 1958 and its been part of our family ever since.

I am one of four siblings that grew up around the Deep Creek and Upper White River Valley areas. The Curran Family initially spent many of our summers hiking, berry picking and generally exploring the area as only kids can do—building forts, setting traps and fishing the local creeks—pretty much Daniel Boone wannabes. Of course, there were always new cabin projects that needed installing or maintenance to keep the cabin running in top shape.

A few years later, Crystal Mountain went in and really changed the way we used the cabin. We all got very involved in skiing with lessons and many trips to Crystal and other mountains over the years. Skiing is still a big part of my winter activities.

After spending 37 years in the power equipment industry, I retired four years ago from the STIHL company. We continue to be very blessed to share our beautiful cabin with siblings, spouses and children. The tradition continues—third generation!!

The Curran Family has a long history of community involvement and volunteering in our home communities and in the cabin area. My father, Jim, was a WRRRA president in the early days of the organization, my sister Maureen (Mo) was the Deep Creek Representative about 15 years ago and brother Mark is the current Deep Creek Rep.

My commitment to all of you, my fellow cabin owners, is to bring all my energy, time, skills and tremendous love of the outdoors to help continue and grow the great traditions of the WRRRA.

Thanks for considering me as a candidate.

~ Tim Curran

Goat Creek Rep - Tom Woods

My father in law, Bruce Penny, purchased the "Penny" cabin in 1952. I first visited in 1970, and joined the Penny clan in 1972 with my marriage to Jude. The Wood family, and the families of Jude's brother Bob Penny, and her sister Jan Henson share a one third interest in the cabin. All our families have enjoyed the cabin over the years. It is a special place with fond memories.

I retired from a 40-year career in the Mortgage Finance business in 2014. During those years I participated on the Board of Directors for various organizations. Currently, I am on the Board of Directors for Communities in Schools of Kent whose mission is to work with at risk students to get them a High School Diploma and maximize their educational experience. I also serve on the WRRRA finance committee. My goal in serving on the WRRRA Board of Directors will be to preserve a sound organization so that all our family cabins will be available for the enjoyment of future generations.

Silver Springs Rep - Bill Vlases

I've been a WRRRA member since my wife Maureen and I bought our Silver Springs cabin in 2001 with her parents, who were looking for a quieter, more private place to spend time than their group cabin (Forelauffer) at the ski area. The quiet didn't last long, as our two children Chloe (now 12) and Luke (10) were born and we all spent a lot of time at the cabin. That continues; Chloe is racing for CMAC, Luke is free-skiing, and Maureen and I are on the hill most weekends.

During the week I'm a manager at Boeing, as well as the Director of the ski team at the University of Washington, where I raced in college. Since college, I've spent a lot of time teaching skiing at Stevens, coaching at Snoqualmie, and free-skiing at Crystal.

We spend time at the cabin during the summer when we can, amidst all of the kid sports and other in-town activities. I continue to get in quite a bit of trail running, biking and "wood management" around Crystal in the summer months.

Over the past two decades, a number of friends turned into cabin neighbors, and a number of cabin neighbors have turned into friends. I'll be pleased to represent Silver Springs in matters that impact us all. Please let me know if you have any concerns, feedback or interest in WRRRA matters. I look forward to meeting you!

Incumbent Deep Creek Rep - Mark Curran

A Pacific Northwest native, I grew up in Kent, Washington and have lived in West Seattle for the past 18 years. My wife Julie and I have three kids: Brody (12), Nola (10), and Gus (7). Our extended family has lovingly owned DC-3, also known as Green Timbers, since 1958. Over the years, our cabin has infused an appreciation and love of the outdoors in hundreds of visiting friends and families. As a child I spent many extended summers playing in the creek, huckleberry picking at Coral Pass, exploring in the woods and, in winter months, skiing at Crystal Mountain.

I'm the youngest of 4 siblings who all share the cabin together and are 4 dues-paying members. My family members all enjoy and revere the bounty that the White River Valley has to offer. In my past two years on the board, I've appreciated the opportunity to begin to understand the dynamic relationship between WRRRA and the Forest Service, the complexities around snow plowing and road maintenance within the various tracts. I recently partnered successfully with the snow-plow team of Perry and Tod Turner to find a viable solution to DC plowing challenges. I can't wait to represent the DC community of cabin owners for another term. This organization has such a rich history of accomplishments. Please let me continue to support you as your DC rep. Together let's inspire additional support for WRRRA through membership growth and overall grass-roots involvement as we move into the future.

Metal Roof Survey Results

This summer, the WRRRA board sent out a survey to cabin owners about metal roofs. We are reporting back to our members about the results of that survey and next steps.

Survey Results:

- Of the 51 responding cabins, 30 reported a preference to replace their cabin and/or woodshed roofs with metal.
- A majority indicated they would like to do so soon, yet have not submitted formal requests to USFS given current likelihood that their requests likely would be denied.
- Some respondents indicated they are holding out hope that there will be a change in the position to allow metal.
- There are other cabin owners who have chosen cedar shakes as their replacement material, either because they preferred it or because they did not want to wait any longer.

What's Next:

We are in the process of gathering more information in preparation for a second meeting with Region 6 USFS archeologists and others this fall to further discuss allowing standing seam metal roof material for roof replacement under the Programmatic Agreement.

Snow Plowing Update 2016-2017 Winter Season

Overview: We are expecting a good winter this year (read lots of snow). We have already had one planning meeting with regards to plowing and will be having additional ones soon. We are making a few changes this year in regards to plowing.

First Dale and crew, who plowed Deep Creek last year, will be the primary plowing crew for all areas this year. Randy will be backup and support, as well as overseeing the process. We cannot thank Randy enough for all his years of service and help on plowing the roads as well as road maintenance. He is not retiring from plowing, simply scaling back a bit.

Next, we are hoping to get a little more consistent driveway staking this year, especially given that we have a new crew. As cabin owners, we need to make sure we are marking not only the driveway but also anything else the crew needs to watch for (well heads, large rocks, stumps, etc.). Ideally, stakes need to be at least 4 feet out of the ground. We have found that purchasing PVC pipe and striping it with bright tape works well.

Finally we have updates to the funding aspect. Last year we spent about $16,500 on plowing and expect to spend about amount, that if not more, this coming winter. This year the amount we are collecting for plowing will be $120 if paid by November 15th and $155 if paid after November 15th and before December 15th. Cabins that have not paid by December 15th will not be plowed for the year. The reason for this is that we need to get the "Do Not Plow" signs up as early as possible and this helps facilitate this. Invoices will go out by October 15th (via snail mail and email). If you do not receive an invoice via one of those methods, contact us.

For all questions please contact Perry Turner (425) 686 9427 or snowplow410@live.com.

Road Maintenance Update

In August, road maintenance work was completed consisting of grading, cleaning of sumps and restricted ditch lines, and laying 225 tons of new gravel in the following areas: all three entrances of 7175, up the hill towards SS-127, the frontage road from the first entrance to SS-66, SS-79-80, and SC-24-26 (sled hill). Total cost was $8,001.

We started the year with $2,698, collected $7,080 from cabin owners, and have $1,777 remaining in the account year to date. Additional graveling is planned before the end of the year, weather permitting, on the upper section of Deep Creek Road on the resort side of the creek.

Passages

We received news of Jim Sauser's passing. Jim held the position of Special Uses Coordinator, Region 6 US Forest Service, Portland office. After his retirement he served as the Associate Director for the National Forest Homeowners board.

Jim had long been our strongest Forest Service advocate working with cabin owners and supporting the recreation residence program. He will be sorely missed for his honest, forthright, caring approach and for regularly attending Washington State Forest Homeowners Association meetings.

WRRR Board Committees

Below is a summary of how the WRRR board has reorganized our workload responsibilities.

What: In a late 2014 planning meeting, the board decided to reorganize our work into a committee structure. By clarifying roles this approach spreads out the workload to address and progress on goals. We implemented our new structure in 2015. The chair of a committee is either assigned by an officer job title or on a voluntarily basis. The officers elected by membership continue to carry out the responsibilities of their specific job, and in addition work as a committee chair or on a committee. Almost every board member is a chair of a committee or works on one or more committees. We may also ask a WRRR member to become a committee chair or member. All Board Committees report directly to the Board of Directors.

How does it work: Rather than having everyone working on everything, the chair of a respective committee initiates the planning for the topic. If the activity is routine and budgeted, it is more of a report to the board that work is underway and there are opportunities for questions or assistance. If the work is a developing idea, the committee consults, develops a written plan and timeline to share with other board members to gain conceptual agreement before moving it forward.

While in effect now 21 months, we continue to refine our processes and committees are almost all fully functional. Email and conference calls prove beneficial to conduct some of our committee planning work. Recommendations then come to the board for approval. The established and ongoing board committees are not the only committees. We have important initiatives where a small group may investigate or work on an issue for a shorter period of time to resolve it or bring recommendations to the board. We also have other ex officio committees that may work on a variety of activities such as snowplowing and roads for example that are outside of this structure.

What are the benefits? There are two primary benefits. First there are efficiencies in use of board members time. Secondly, we are getting more done concurrently. We used to discuss a lot of detail at each board meeting. Now board members receive a board packet with committee reports prior to the board meeting. The reports outline goals and progress to date and areas where assistance may be needed. We know who is taking charge of a given subject and when there is a question about a subject, who the point person is who will respond. An added outcome is that communication and commitment to the team and members is strong. And beginning this year the committee chairs are directly involved in generating recommendations for the 2017 budget. Each year we will revisit the chairs of committees depending on the outcome of the elections.

What are the committees?

The Committees and current chairs are:

- Relationships - Rena Irwin, President
- Membership – Floyd Rogers, Vice President
- Communications (Including Website) - Secretary - Anne Turner
- Social Activities – Kevin Orth
- Cabin Tour - Jody Nyquist and Paul Meyer
- Finance – Tom Wood
- Organizational Structure – Rena Irwin, President
- Infrastructure and Emergency Preparedness – Mark Wellington
- Fund Raising – Mark Curran
- Nominating Committee – Assigned by President ((Mark Wellington)

If you are interested in knowing more about the committees or become involved in some way, send a communication to secretary@wrra.net

Ted Cowan

Long-time cabin-owner and WRRRA member Ted Cowan (DC#10) has died. Ted and his partners Jack Kinney, Ken Barr and Frank Couch began building their cabin (sometimes called Fort Jackson) in the early 1950s. They bought a couple of tracts of trees to be logged, and had them cut and delivered to the cabin plot on the White River side of Highway 410. Ted's daughter Valorie remembers helping remove the bark on a load of logs before they were sprayed with insecticide. The logs had to season awhile before they were cut to size and shaped to be stacked up "like Lincoln Logs," as Valorie Zimmerman recalls.

As the families came up to visit or work, they stopped by the 410 Quarry outside of Enumclaw. Rocks were added until the car or truck springs protested. When the men got ready to fill in the rock walls and most important, the fireplace and chimney, the rocks were there ready for use. Once all the rock was in place, the owner of the quarry was invited up, and asked to provide a bill.

The roof of the cabin is still shakes hand-split from old-growth cedar cut from downed trees around the cabin. The men used froes, not a tool seen much anymore, and old bowling pins to drive the froe through the wood! There are still a couple of those worn bowling pins in the toolshed, along with at least one froe. The younger owners are hoping to replace that roof from the 50s with a new metal roof when that is allowed.

The cabin that Ted Cowan and the other owners built has been the true home to their children and even grandchildren. Long may the work of his hands continue to provide shelter and comfort to those left bereft by his loss. Ted and his wife Lola are buried at the Tahoma National Cemetery.

Ted Cowan, a Personal Reminiscence

I got to know Ted in the late 1990s. His cabin partner, Ken Barr, had done extensive research on the private use of public lands. The data he provided helped us prepare a strategy for dealing with skyrocketing permit fees, which threatened the existence of the cabin program at that time. Always interested in the issues, Ted frequently participated in NFH conventions. I remember, in particular, the convention held in Salt Lake City in April 2003. Ted and I attended a rehearsal performance of the Mormon Tabernacle Choir. What a pleasure that was!

Ted was not only a devoted member of WRRRA and NFH; he was also active in the Washington State Forest Homeowners Association, serving as our lobbyist in Olympia for many years. He knew Dino Rossi and other Republican bigwigs personally and helped craft legislation that would have exempted our lots from the state leasehold excise tax. Alas, it failed to pass, but it was not for lack of trying on Ted's part.

On a more whimsical note, Ted was an advocate for the formation of a new county on the western side of the Cascade Mountains, one that would be more responsive to the needs of local residents. It was to be known as Cedar County. Unfortunately, reality intervened and it remains a dream to this day.

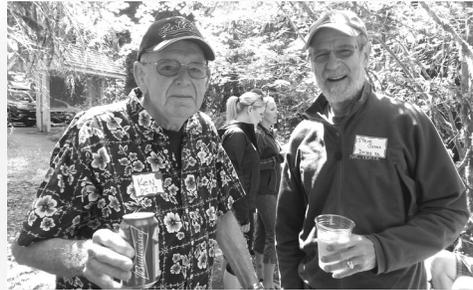

I'll miss Ted. He was an interesting man, always friendly toward others, full of warmth and good cheer. As WRRRA secretary, I had the privilege of publishing an article on his wife Lola, who had recently passed away, and the Hearthside cabin. It appeared in the Fall 2001 issue of our newsletter and included the following revelation: "Ted and Lola went to Paradise Inn for their honeymoon and returned nearly every year for the next 53 years." What a beautiful, life-affirming statement! Ted was a lucky man and so are we, who were fortunate enough to have known him.
